North Glasgow Community Food Initiative

Background Information

History

North Glasgow Community Food Initiative (NGCFI) started as non-profit making organisation in June 2001. It was initially established by students from Student Action for Refugees (STAR) at Glasgow University, under the name of the North Glasgow Food Co-op to respond to the needs of the then new asylum seeking community.

In the first year the project was run entirely by volunteers and in September 2002 the project received funding to take on staff to support and develop activities. The organisation then changed its name to the 'North Glasgow Community Food Initiative' and broadened its focus to include expanded sales of fruit and vegetables, a delivery service, an allotment project and cookery activities. It has been growing ever since!

IN September 2005 we became a Company Limited by Guarantee with Charitable Status.

In 2006, we were one of only two organisations to win the prestigious Dame Sheila McKechnie Award for Community Food Initiatives, administered by the Food Standards Agency in London.

In October 2009, NGCFI and Milton Food Project merged. We work in partnership to improve greater co-operation between food projects in Glasgow and Scotland.

In 2011 we began ground works at our community garden in Milton, soon winning an award for sustainable working. In June 2012 we launched our Royston project, later becoming a Food hub. In 2013 we received Climate Challenge Fund (CCF) monies to enhance and develop our work in Milton with our Milton CRUNCH (community-recycling-upcycling-nutritious food- composting-health) project. In 2014-16 Big Lottery Funding enabled us to upgrade our community amenity space – Milton Memorial Garden. It was officially opened by the then Cabinet Secretary Richard Lochhead MSP in September 2015. With funding from Esmee Fairbairn commenced our Springburn Food Hub in. We have won or been finalists in a few Glasgow media based Awards. In 2017 we were Community Champion winners in NW Glasgow for the Health and Wellbeing category organised by the Evening Times. 2018 will see some of the work which CCF fund in Milton, extended to our Springburn and Royston Food Hubs.

The area of North Glasgow within which we work has a population of 100,000. There are indicators of poverty which rank some of the communities in the North as being amongst the most socially and economically deprived in the UK, if not Western Europe. Administratively, Glasgow divided into three areas, with NGCFI operating within parts of the North East and North West, however our funding does not permit us to cover the whole area. We focus on the communities of Milton, Royston and Springburn.

We employ 14 members of staff – an organisational chart is provided below. Our latest annual report is on our web site.

NGCFI's Vision and Strategic Goal

Our Vision

To contribute to the development of a society, where health, well-being and harmony are supported within active communities.

Strategic Goal

North Glasgow Community Food Initiative's Strategic Goal is to empower individuals and communities to lead practical and sustainable food related projects such as nutritional education, healthy cookery classes, growing food and giving access to affordable fruit and vegetables in the local community, that inspire and improve overall health and well-being, promoting community cohesion, whilst celebrating the diverse nature of the communities in North Glasgow.

How we will do this?

Our Approach

NGCFI has adopted a community engagement model as our response to the reality that all the top down efforts to "change people's behaviour" around healthy food have, by in large failed to deliver. We see our role as putting our resources at the disposal of people in communities supporting them to take a lead in improving diet, health and well-being for themselves, their families, their community.

We support people in mainly low income communities. We actively engage them in healthy cookery classes, growing food and we also offer access to affordable fruit and vegetables at our community sales points. We recruit, train and support volunteers from a wide variety of backgrounds and none of our activities would be possible without them.

Food Hubs

NGCFI is committed to our Food Hub model of working. We have defined Food Hubs as a way of integrating our core activities into a single offer based in a community. By connection gardening, home growing, accessing and learning to cook fresh food, our fruit and veg barras, nutrition and weight management classes, we can make a greater and more sustainable impact in the areas where we work. Whichever activity a local resident engages with us, we will encourage them to experience all aspects of our work so they can better make the connection to food and health. We also follow Community Development principles and processes wherever possible. We also will work in an asset based approach to build on individual and community strengths.

In 2019, NGCFI taking on a long-term lease of St Andrews Church in Milton to establish as our main office and our food hub base. We were successful in renewing our Investing in Volunteers (IIV) accreditation.

Partnership working

We want to promote and support the food-based activities of partner organisations so that people have information about everything that is on offer in their community to support them to enjoy a healthier diet and lifestyle. We seek to work with partners to maximise the impact of all food related activity for the betterment of the local community.

We engage a group of volunteers in each food hub area and support them to have a leading role in planning and delivering the project. Leading members of each Food Hub are also co-opted as Board Members, ensuring people from communities where we work have a major role in directing the organisation. We have successfully recruited leading volunteers from Milton and Royston food hubs on to the Board where they are making a huge contribution.

In light of the increasing proportion of people in employment, albeit many in fragile, part-time or zero-hours contracts, and pressure on individuals out of work to obtain work, it is becoming more difficult to recruit volunteers to take part in day-time activities. Some we do recruit have greater support needs. This challenges us to engage with the agenda around training for work, to engage with Job Centres and to consider the possibility for accreditation. This is also going to challenge us to deliver more outside of working hours and at weekends.

The Food Hub model has also proved attractive to a wider range of charitable funders, because we have been able to show how what we do makes a difference in deprived communities.

Current activities

Our work is based on our Food Hun model. Rather than respond to all requests, from 2013-14 delivery has been through Community Food Hubs in Milton, Royston, and Springburn. Our Community Food Hub method of delivery brings together more closely our fruit and veg sales service, cookery classes for all ages, including homeless & addictions groups, healthy eating talks, grow your own food and a large volunteering project. We will also develop more partnership working with other organisations' food related work for mutual benefit and maximise impacts in communities. A strong feature of food hubs is getting to know the community, engaging with residents and supporting a local food hub group of local people.

Managing NGCFI Our Project Manager, on behalf of the Board has day to day responsibility for managing NGCFI staff and resources. The Admin Assistant plays a key role in supporting the efficient running of the organisation. Our Finance Officer is highly experienced. We have well established systems and procedures.

Royston Food Hub

Originally funded for three years by the Big Lottery Fund and then, the Scottish Government's People and Communities Fund, our new project, Strengthening Royston Through Food, with Scottish Government Investing in Communities Funding will support the delivery of our work. It has a Food Hub group to lead and oversee our work. It is led by our Food Hub Manager. The beneficiaries include - families, school pupils / young people, older people and those with addiction needs. The Food Hub will deliver a range of activities including classes on preparing healthy meals on a budget and nutritional advice, sales of fruit and veg and a growing project. An allotment plot is being developed in the adjacent area of Germiston and supports local food growing. The Food Hub is based within Royston Primary School where there is a large, well-resourced room for cookery classes plus an office. We work closely with the school's Head Teacher. Other key partners include Copperworks Housing Association. The food hub benefits from support of our Volunteer Co-ordinator. There is a Royston Strategy Group of which NGCFI is a member. From our very recent survey, the three key areas of food concern, which this project will directly address are:

- Lack of money to buy food
- Lack of locally available fresh food and veg
- Lack of healthy options for children

Our project will be able to meet requests for, and deliver, more cookery classes, including a focus on weight reduction for specific groups. There is development work identified from our survey findings. Critically, local people are centre stage and we will facilitate discussions for those experiencing food poverty to shape what we do and also, work collaboratively to improve the wider community's health and wellbeing. Royston is effectively a food desert. NGCFI will help mitigate this and address rising food related ill health.

Volunteering Project

Volunteer Co-ordinator plays a key role in helping new volunteers feel welcome and placed satisfactorily in their volunteering roles. Volunteers are the backbone of our organisation and are involved in all aspects of our work. We are always keen to take on new volunteers and aim to provide our volunteers with an enjoyable and supportive experience with the opportunity for skills development, improving confidence and gaining new training as well as having fun! We focus volunteer recruitment in the areas in which we work. Presently we have 48 active volunteers registered with us, many are asylum seekers, refugees or other foreign nationals. Volunteers have an opportunity to take part in all activities undertaken by the organisation: Cookery classes, growing produce, fruit and vegetable sales, admin, IT and community events. Some volunteer roles require PVG checks. We encourage volunteers to take on leadership or 'host' roles as appropriate. In addition to our e-newsletter we have also been making greater use of social media to keep in touch with volunteers.

Our three Food Hubs deliver on some / all of the following: Fruit and Veg Service. We run a weekly service on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursday. We sell low-price fresh fruit and vegetables in community venues including in Royston, and Milton. Sessions are run by volunteers with the support of a part-time paid van driver. We aim to have the local community take responsibility for running their own fruit barra, so that we provide a supply and pricing service only. We have a small unit adjacent to our office to house this service. We hire a van for deliveries.

Cookery Project.

We run cookery classes across our three food hubs, co-ordinated by the Food Hub Manager and led by sessional cooks. They encourage healthy eating, learning cookery skills and sharing recipe ideas from different cultures. We have run over 20 cookery courses per year with a wide range of different groups. We also do cookery demonstrations and taster sessions. Sessional cooks will share their knowledge of healthy eating and show how to cook a meal from scratch on a tight budget. Food Hub Co-ordinator also co-ordinate local activity, including our healthy eating sessions in schools. We are keen to harness the talents of our staff to work with the community to create innovative ways to address issues of food related disease and ill health.

Community Gardening: Milton Community Garden Location: Milton Community Garden, Liddesdale Square, Milton, Glasgow G22 7BT

This has a 25 year lease with Glasgow City Council. We have created a beautiful local amenity and asset. Our community growing space is backed by our community gardener, landscaper, composter and many of volunteers. The garden is led by our Garden Co-ordinator supported with four part time staff. Our adjacent Milton Memorial Garden arose in response to local people wanting a local space to remember lost loved ones. It is currently funded by the National Lottery Community-led to boost health and wellbeing for all ages with people growing, cooking and eating healthy food and cut waste with composting and creating growing spaces using recycled materials.

Background: Following the granting of a lease from the City Council to NGCFI in 2011, we commenced ground works. We seek to engage local residents in decision making and influencing session planning and to foster the development of leadership roles for local people in pursuit of the gardening projects aims. We have a 'Local Assembly' to support group local participation in garden decision making. We also have the Milton Food Hub Group, in turn it has two places on the NGCFI Board. Milton Garden has a Community Engagement Officer post who in addition to delivering work in the garden, acts as a link to promoting the garden in the wider community and helps maintain partnership working. Our Milton National Lottery Fund - Community Led programme is not only a funder but part of our ethos... that the community leads on the work we do.

Milton Youth Garden Project

Funded by BBC Children in Need, our part time Youth Garden Worker aims to nurture young people through healthy eating, socializing with other young people and adults and thinking about the responsibility and ownership they can take in their own community. Our After-School gardening sessions have a number of healthy food activities and children learn what it means to act and make change in the community. Through group work activities, children will have the opportunity to grow their own food and see the complete cycle of food from 'plough to plate' and back into the soil through composting.

More information is on our web site and on facebook : Milton Community Garden and Food Hub <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Milton-Community-Garden-and-Food-Hub/269691849710442>

In addition to our large Milton garden, we also have growing activities at Springburn allotment, runs on a Monday. We have plans to improve social and outdoor work areas. We work with volunteers to grow their own organic fruit and vegetables, learn about the environment or just get out in the fresh air and benefit from physical activity.

Our Royston gardening work is delivered in partnership with Copperworks Housing Association and local schools. Both areas utilise the talents of our sessional gardeners to run the activities. Local residents recommended we take on a plot at Germiston allotment too so we did.

Springburn Food Hub

The food hub runs an allotment, and fruit and veg barras where possible. We deliver several cookery classes. We have developed partnerships through local schools, churches and housing groups. There is a new Food Hub Group with a good mix of service users and volunteers.

Other

Outreach We attend many events throughout the year such as gala days. We are also asked to speak to groups about healthy eating.

Students In addition to volunteers we provide opportunities for student placements.

Partnerships. Working alongside and in partnership with a wide range of organisations in our food hub areas and wider afield, for example, Glasgow Community Food Network, NG Integration Network, GCC's Sustainable Food Cities agenda.

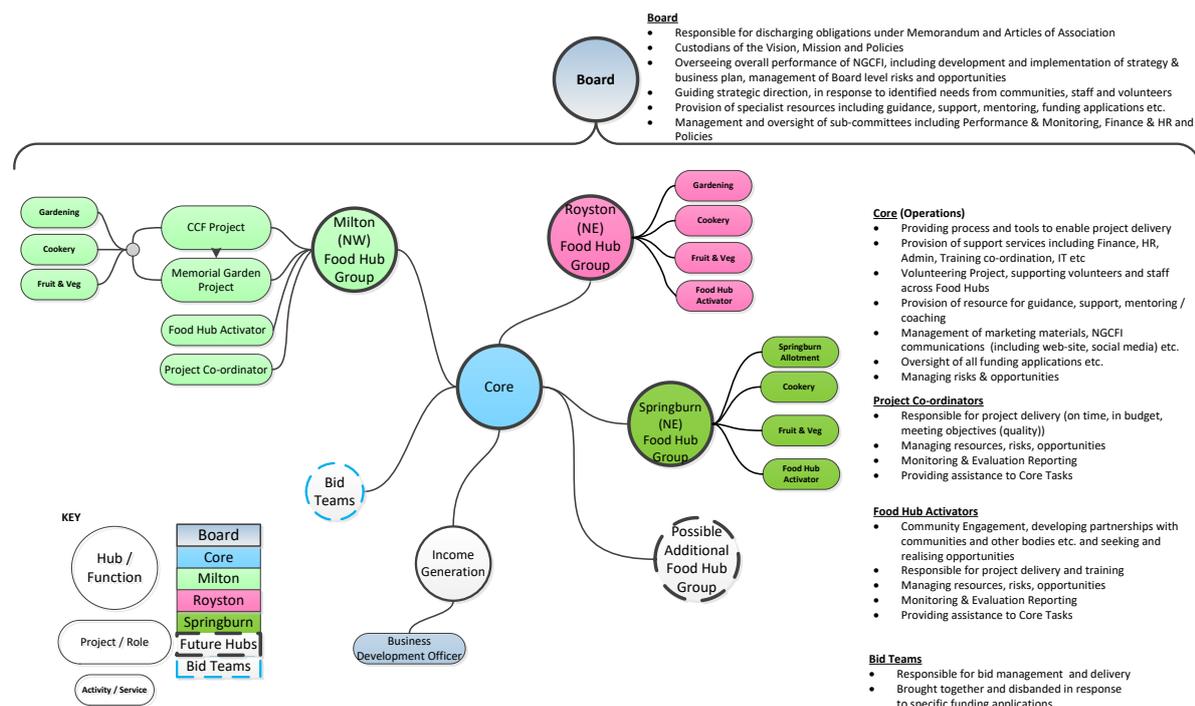

Our current management and organisational structure

The North Glasgow Community Food Initiative is a not-for-profit organisation run by volunteers. Our Board of Directors come from a variety of backgrounds including the voluntary sector, fundraising, and members of the local community, including asylum seekers. The Board of Directors meet six weekly to oversee the strategic direction of the charity, plan future services and organisational and project development. In addition our Board sub-committees meet regularly. The main subcommittees are Finance and Fundraising, and Fruit and Veg. Each Food Hub Group is a key local forum for local people to influence and lead our work, and to which we are accountable to.

Funders Our current funders include the Glasgow Communities Fund, National Lottery Fund, Scottish Government – Investing in Communities; Henry Smith Charity, The Robertson Trust, and BBC Children in Need.
